

Children's Rights

Larkfield daycare will operate according to the Convention on the Rights of the Child. All members of staff are expected to sign to state that they will uphold the convention and respect the rights of the child. Larkfield daycare believes that every child should be treated as an individual and all children should be treated with equal respect regardless of their personal or family circumstances.